Mixed 'Spiel Next

Plans have now been completed for the holding of a mixed bonspiel, which will pretty well wind up the season's curling. The bonspiel will run from March 21 to 26, with three draws daily, at 5, 7 and 9 p.m.

Entries are now being received by John Wolfe, bonspiel secretary, and each rink must consist of two men and two women. The men must play the second and skip positions and the women play lead and third. Entry fee is $10 per rink.

Annual Banquet March 23

The annual banquet and business meeting of the Vulcan Curling Club will be held in the Vulcan Lodge Hall on Wednesday, March 23 and all curlers are invited to attend.

Golfers "Ready And Willing"

The most anxious and ardent golfer in town must be Tom Holm. Here it is, only March, but Tom has his 1960 club dues paid and covers the nine holes every day searching for grass, any color.

Next in line should come Norm Pettie who caught the golfing disease last summer and couldn't stand the snow-time layoff so proceeded to set himself up with an indoor driving range for the winter. In the back of his Wheat Centre Motors garage is located a "bull-pen" consisting of a backdrop of wartime camouflage netting centred by a golf-ball-riddled navy canvas hammock. From a mat some 20 feet away you can let drive with a number three wood with all the meat you'd use off the first tee.

Unless you're a terrible shot the ball will sock into the hammock or netting and you'll get the feeling of a full swing at a regular golf ball.

There are though, seven gouges in the ceiling above the netting and if a drive does go astray it's well to hit for cover, for the first few rebounds off the cement walls are something to behold.

Norm has left the facilities open to all callers during the winter months, even to left-handed golfers and although this has never been mentioned, it is suspected it could be the first step in a gradual acceptance of those off-handed swingers as regular club members.

Another point not discussed but with lots of merit is the novel idea that Norm throw in a month or two free use of the range on the purchase of a new car.

It takes 10 inches of snow to equal an inch of rain.

Legion Curlers Still Doing Well

At time of going to press Wednesday morning, Harris Matlock and his Vulcan Canadian Legion rink had a perfect record of six wins and no losses at the Dominion Legion finals in Summerside, P.E.I.

Community Night At Alston Hall

Community efforts are still a worthwhile project as was proven by the Alston Community Hall Board recently. Two work days of cleaning, painting and carpentering in the basement of the hall were followed up with a pot luck supper on Saturday, March 5. The meal turned out to be a genuine smorgesborg with so many homemade pies and buns. The surplus was auctioned previous to the cards that followed the supper.

As soon as the aftermath of the meal could be cleared and the tables moved from the centre of the basement two tables of bridge and six of whist got underway in the hall proper while the young fry were escorted below under the leadership of Misses Evelyn, Marjorie, Mabel Reath and Mrs. Flitton. Games for those from babies to teens were indulged in and later gave way to jiving and a few instructions in old-time dancing. Starry eyes and smiling faces were a full reward to those who gave of their time and efforts until 11:00 p.m.

Prizes in the cards were: Bridge —ladies' high, Mrs. G. Poersch; gent's high, G. Poersch; low ladies', Mrs. L. Middleton; gents' low, R. Flitton. Whist— ladies' high, Mrs. G. Strauss; gents' high, P. Plytka; low ladies', Mrs. M. Beingessner, low gents', A. Becker.

Around 100 people were out to participate in this social evening and although it may have been a bit noisey for the adults at times, it was a real hay-day for the youngsters and one they will long remember.

Shower Honors Milo Bride-elect

Mrs. Del Thomas assisted by Mrs. Burnell Drummond, entertained Wednesday afternoon, March 9, at a miscellaneous bridal shower honoring Miss Bettie Beckner of Milo.

Thirty-five guests enjoyed a very interesting program of contests arranged by Mrs. Hugh Hanna. Prizes were won by Miss Bettie Beckner, Mrs. Roy Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Dave Warkentin, Mrs. Walter Dann and Mrs. Terry White.

A decorated basket, filled with many lovely packages, was carried in by Miss Renie Crabb and Miss Mary Ann Crabb. Mrs. Terry White made the presentation of the gifts and expressed the best wishes of all for a happy future. Mrs. Alvin Larkin recorded the gifts in the bride's book. Assisting the bride-elect in opening her gifts were her mother, Mrs. Tom Beckner and Mrs. Mike Orchard, mother of the groom-elect.

Bettie very graciously thanked everyone present for the useful and beautiful gifts for her new home and for their kind wishes.

Several ladies of the district assisted in serving lunch, which was high-lighted by a gaily decorated cake, made by Mrs. Ross McIntyre and presented by all singing, "Happy Birthday" to Mrs. Mike Orchard on the occasion of her birthday.

Church of Christ Groups Active

The ladies meetings for the month of March have been held and both report a good response.

The Keystone Class met on the first Thursday afternoon of the month at the home of Mrs. Glen Dahl. There were 13 members present and also three visitors. The roll call was answered with a verse from the Bible on Faith. Doug Smith brought a very interesting devotional on the work of the Holy Spirit. Mrs. Donald Smith presided at the meeting.

The Candlelight Group also held their meeting, this on the second Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. John Haydamack. There were 17 members present at that time. Mrs. Jean Gardner brought a devotional centred around Faith. The roll call was answered on 'Wind'. Each lady was asked to bring something Irish to the meeting. The business part of the meeting was under the direction of the president, Mrs. Eileen Haga. Instead of a contest the ladies sewed the hems of four quilts they had made. A very fine lunch was served bythe hostess, assisted by Mrs. Ruth Dann and Mrs. Barbara Pearce.

Last Sunday morning greetings and best wishes were extended to Mr. and Mrs. Hank Rutberg who were celebrating their Silver Wedding Anniversary. During the day many church members went to their home, where "open house" was being held, to extend their personal wishes to the couple.

The young people's groups who hold meetings on Monday and and Wednesday evenings, continue to be active and are all busy at the present time as they prepare a special program for Easter Sunday and anticipate the journey down to Montana for their Spring Youth Conference.

250 Pigs Suffocated

$30,000 Loss Suffered In District Farm Fire

The farm operation of C. W. Loose, south-west of Vulcan, suffered $30,000 loss, Thursday, March 10, when a building housing 250 pigs burned to the ground.

Loss includes the 250 pigs, 100 of which were due for market this week, the 40' x 110' fully modern barn, 2,000 bushels of feed, self-feeder, automatic gutter cleaning esuipment, furnace and chopping machinery.

Of three possible causes of the fire, the electrical wiring, the thermostatically controlled furnace and the chopping equipment, the latter operation is believed responsible. It is thought a piece of metal went through the machine during operation that day and during the night ignited the feed in the barn.

Insurance partially covers the buildings and animals but the layout, capable of producing from 2,000 to 2,500 market-ready pigs per year, will be hampered for lack of heated housing facilities.

Two fire rigs, one from the nearby airport and one from town fought to save adjacent buildings from 2:30 till 4:45 a.m.

First sighted from a second story bedroom window by Mrs. Loose, the fire had burned the south end of the barn which forms the start of a partial semi-circular yard plan which includes, in addition to the burning barn, another long 200' pig barn housing 450 pigs at the time, a workshop and other units, in the centre of which are three residences.

By the time Mr. Loose, his son Bob and the farm workers reached the doors of the doomed building the pigs had died of suffocation so attention was turned to the next building 20 feet to the north. The north wall of the burning structure was propped up with corral poles to prevent it falling against the adjacent building and the pigs there were driven out into the coulee as it was feared the threatened building could not be saved.

When the two fire-rigs arrived with a combined total of 800 gallons of water the wall nearest the flames was kept wet and the truck tanks were kept full by a bucket brigade from the farm water supply.

The destroyed building was quon-set styled wood construction, built in 1951. It was more recently converted from a cattle barn for pig production. The automatic cleaning — an endless linked chain set down in the gutter running 350 feet around the cement floors, which carries the washed-down refuse into a sewer system— was added within the last year. The building was divided into four sections with accommodation for 400 pigs. A tractor standing by the building was removed before damage was done.

One problem was evacuating the next building as the pigs refused to leave the pens and some were injured in moving while others were caught by the cold of the night. Also in the pens were day-old litters and several sows due to farrow.

Although aware of his loss, Mr. Loose felt it was through several lucky factors that damage went no further. The fire was spotted in time to get preventative action started on the next unit, and what wind there was came from the rest of the spread, rather than towards it. The airport fire engine was new and the 500 gallon tank had just been filled at 1 a.m., that morning. Also, Mr. Loose feared the town unit would not be permitted to travel that distance and was very appreciative of the help given by the town fire brigade.

Called from the local fire department were fire chief Bob Johnston, deputy chief Art Scott, Bob Petrosky and Don Larkins.

Hansens Win At Calgary Seed Fair

The Harold Hansen family of Ensign gathered a fair share of prizes at the Provincial Seed Fair held in Calgary March 4-5.

In the junior section, requiring two-pound samples, Marilyn Hansen got second prize and David Hansen third prize with samples of Olli barley. In the junior section, feed barley, Marilyn's sample placed sixth and David's seventh, with samples of Compana barley. In the hard red spring wheat section, David's and Marilyn's samples of Chinook wheat placed sixth and seventh respectively.

In the Registered Seed section, with one-peck samples representative of at least 15 bushels and selected by District Agriculturists or Seed Inspectors, the sample of Olli barley submitted by Harold Hansen placed fourth in the malting barley section and the sample of Chinook wheat submitted by Mr. Hansen placed fifth in the hard red spring wheat section.

Institute Hears Gardening Hints

The March meeting of the Reid Hill WI was held at the home of Mrs. Walter Frickelton with Mrs. C. Love and Mrs. Frieda McRoberts as assisting hosteses.

Mrs. E. Deal, the president presided and was assisted by Mrs. J. French and Mrs. C. L. Kuykendall, secretary and treasurer respectively. Roll call was answered with an Irish joke and provided much amusement.

Correspondence was light and dealt with routine matters. Final plans were made for Mrs. Deal and Mrs. French to attend the conference in Calgary later this month.

A fine paper on agriculture, written and read by Mrs. E. G. McPherson was much appreciated, containing as it did many helpful hints on gardening.

The tea draw was won by Mrs. Fred Schuler after which a hot lunch was served by the hostesses. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Deal, April 14.

A person can't hope for success — he had to "hop" for it.

First Lomond Baseball Team

Elvin M. Benson of 3911, 2nd St. N.W., Calgary, sends along this picture of the first baseball team organized in what is now the Lake McGregor area. In Mr. Benson's letter accompanying the picture he says: "There was no railroad between Nanton and Brooks in those days, so for sport and entertainment we organized the first baseball team east of Snake Valley at a country store named Brunetta, half-way between Armada and Lomond, in 1910. We encouraged other communities to organize and later played Reid Hill, Sweet Valley (now known as Travers) and Bow City and took on all comers.

The picture above is of our team following our first game with Vulcan in 1912, the first year of Vulcan's existence. The picture was taken alongside Mrs. Plumb's board and lodging house across from Dodd's Livery Barn. Our victory in this game encouraged us and as other towns came into being, such as Champion, Carmangay, Sundial, Retlaw and others, we discarded our overalls for real baseball suits and took them all on. In 1914 the railroad arrived in Lomond and we became the Lomond ball club. As oldtimers will remember, Lomond has sponsored some very good baseball since and played all teams from Lethbridge to Calgary in various years.

Frozen Flax May Harm Cattle

L. M. Bezeau, Animal Nutritionist

Because of the early frost in October, 1959, many acres of immature flax became unsuitable as a source of seed. As a result a number of farmers have contracted the Research Station concerning the feeding of this material to livestock.

Growing flax plants contain complex compounds called glycosides, which, when acted on by enzymes, produce prussic acid, a deadly poison. When the plant cells are broken by wilting, bruising, or freezing, the enzymes in the plant are able to act on the glycosides to produce prussic acid. It has been found that young plants produce more prussic acid than older ones whereas well cured flax hay produces very little or none of the poison. Flax grown on poor soil contains less than that grown on good soil. Nitrate fertilization markedly increases the percentage of prussic acid in a plant.

It is doubtful if horses and swine are ever affected by prussic acid poisoning; however, cattle and sheep are very susceptible. Stock affected by the poison sometimes die in a few minutes after eating only a small amount of the dangerous forage, perhaps only a few mouthfuls. However, in most cases, symptoms appear in about 10 or 15 minutes. Symptoms include drowsiness, twitching of the muscles, staggering and laboured breathing.

It has been found that startch and sugar check the rate of formation of the prussic acid. If a poisoned animal is discovered in time, a drench of molasses or sugar diluted with water may be helpful but a veterinarian should be called at once to give additional treatment.

If a farmer wishes to have flax analyzed for prussic acid content, he should contact his local District Agriculturist for details on how to prepare a sample and where to send it. In the Province of Alberta, a feed analysis service is maintained at the University in Edmonton.

If it is found that the flax hay contains only sub-lethal quantities of prussic acid, chances of poisoning are diminished by giving cattle or sheep a feed of grain before they are allowed to eat the flax.

ENSIGN

Some young people gathered in the Archie Ferguson home on Friday evening, March 11, for a hare and hound hunt. The weather being cold everyone was glad to get back to the house where hot lunch was waiting for them. After lunch all joined in singing followed by a short meditation on Luke 15:3-7 where the Shepherd seeks the lost sheep until He finds it. When He finds it there is cause for rejoicing, and likewise there is joy in Heaven over one sinner that repents.

Home and School Association

The Champion Home and School program for March 7, was in the nature of a career night with six local folk participating.

Mrs. Pitcher spoke on secretarial work. This career was ably presented and the talk was much enjoyed. Mrs. Fath gave a very interesting talk on nursing, capably presenting its rigours, joys, tears and triumphs. Fred Cartwright spoke from the teacher's angle. After hearing him every parent should have a softer spot in his heart for the teacher.

A very romantic career, that of a farmer's wife, was humorously acted out by Madam X (Racille Ellis), clad in kitchen attire and mop in hand. Although Madam X stated afterward that she had forgotten to give the 25 qualifications for a farmer's wife that she had jotted down, all would agree that she ably mastered the 30 that she mustered up at random. The life of a farmer's wife must be very romantic.

Don Versluys spoke on the work of the School of Agriculture and Gary Jopling on the School of School of Technology and Art. Both these young men presented their careers very well, drawing much applause from the goodly number present.

History of Snake Valley Recalls Buffalo Wilderness

(Editor's Note: One of our readers at Milo has sent us a copy of the "History of Snake Valley" prepared in the early 1940's by Henry Allergoth, at that time principal of the Milo school. The description of the years when the Snake Valley country was primarily a cattle ranching area is particularly interesting. Length of the history make it necessary to publish it in several installments, the first of which appears below.)

* * *

On a high hill on the banks of the Bow, three miles south of Cluny, stands a cairn commemorating that day of June, 1877, when the Indians forever gave up their rights to fifty thousand square miles of land in the last camp ground of Crowfoot, the famous Blackfoot Chief.

From this vantage ground a beautiful panoramic view of the country in and beyond the Blackfoot Reserve may be had. Directly below on a magnificent curve of the Bow, and surrounded by a verdant growth of cottonwoods and grassy meadows, lies the historic Blackfoot Crossing, the actual site of the signing of the treaty On the other side of the river and stretching far to the south between two ranges of low lying hills is the old thoroughfare of the Blackfeet, Snake Valley. It is about fifteen miles wide at this point but gradually narrows until it is only a few yards across at Coal Coulee, forty miles to the south, where it again widens to join the Little Bow.

The southern end of this valley, has since 1912, been occupied by the enlargement of old Snake Lake due to the building of two dams and has been renamed Lake McGregor. The lake itself is about twenty-five miles long and situated at the northern end is the village of Milo.

The valley had lain in its virgin state, knowing only the buffalo and the carefree roaming of the Blackfeet, 'till the surveyors, one of whom is to be long remembered in connection with the history and development of the valley.

The word has grown old with the tales of unfulfilled visions but there is always born another who dreams his dreams and if he is strong enough strives to make them materialize. Such a one was the rather eccentric Irish surveyor, Captain Dawson, due to whose enthusiam this section of land was first colonized. He was richly endowed with the restless and adventurous nature so characteristic of the Celt and it would seem not without his share of unadulterated "blarney" which he used to the full in organizing a ranching and colonization company with English capital in 1887 to settle the Snake Valley.

Advertisements were placed in Old Country newspapers, painting readybuilt houses on the homesteads, the lush green valley with its acres of fertile soil, a land where game was exeedingly plentiful, and where steamboats would, in time, ply their way up Snake Lake — all this for a trifling sum advanced to the British agents. Much money was invested in the company and in 1888, Captain Dawsin arrived at the site of his future colony which he named Queenstown after his native city in Ireland. A goodly number of single colonists and workmen arrived soon after and a motley collection of buildings were erected, the chief of which was a rambling structure bearing the rather odoriferous title of the "Ram Pasture" and which served as the bunkhouse. They were also to erect the homes for the colonists with families, but when these arrived in the spring of 1889 they found their homes existed only in the fertile mind of the captain, and the heroes of the next portion of our narrative, the ten members of the Brown family, of Kilcardineshire Scotland, were forced to spend their first months in Snake Valley in the loft of a barn. Two other families arrived at the same time, bringing the total number of the colony up to about forty.

By that fall, however, a small house was constructed on the homestead two miles east of the main colony and the Brown family then prepared for their first winter in the Canadian West. This building is now the living room of the large residence which Mr. Brown later constructed. He named his homestead and later acquisitions the "Arbuthnott Ranch" after the estate on which he had been the factor in Scotland. It has been the home of the Brown family for 54 years. At present it is occupied by the son, David Brown, and his two sisters, Miss Susan and Mrs. Wilson.

The first summer a raging prarie fire had swept down the valley and had burned the unprotected hay stacks which Captain Dawson and his men had put up. The winter of 1889 proved a severe one and the cattle which directors of the company had forced Captain Dawson to purchase, were nearly all lost by spring. The terrific strain of these losses forced the Colonization Company into bankruptcy and Mr. Brown was appointed the temporary manager of the colony. Naturally the feelings of the Captain towards his successor were not exactly those of a brother and he lost no opportunity to embarrass his rival.

The following year, the Conrad brothers of Montana, owners of the famous Circle brand, one of the largest cattle companies in the history of the West, took over the colony and used the holding for a fall weaning ground and winter feed camp.

District News

MAJORVILLE

Now we know that the ground hog doesn't know any more about what the weather in Alberta will do than the official weather man. By no stretch of imagination did he see his shadow on his big day, so by now we should be having spring. Instead it is still winter with snow piled high in drifts all over the district and very few days does the temperature reach the 20 degree mark. However with reports of lambs and calves coming in for the past month it is spring on some farms so maybe it won't be too long now before we get that break which is always so welcome. Even the old time February thaw did not develop this year.

A number of births of local interest are a daughter (Shelley Irene) to Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Gore in a Calgary hospital. A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Bud Groves (nee LaRee Scott) of Wardlaw in Brooks. A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Truckman (nee Kathleen Edwards) of Spruce Grove, Alta., and a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Edwards of High River. The latter two babies are grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Edwards now of Bassano, but formerly of Majorville.

Mrs. Prentice looked after the Aubrey Gore household while Mrs. Gore was in Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Mills of Calgary are weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Papp.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dew have returned home after a trip south of the border.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Vooys returned recently from a vacation spent near Pheonix, Arizona. They were accompanied south by Leonard's parents.

En route to Hawaii, Mr. and Mrs. Vic Bertrand stopped off at the coast to visit with former district residents, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Alston.

Hap Heather, Jim Prentice, Bill Deitz and Donald Deitz were a rink of curlers who went to Medicine Hat to participate in the bonspiel. At time of writing they were still in the running for a prize.

Mrs. Hap Heather's rink went back to Lomond and completed their curling in the ladies' 'spiel, coming home with 2nd prize in the First Event, a travelling clock. Other members of the rink were Mrs. Bartsch, Mrs. Bert Clemmons and Mrs. J. Thomson, Jr., the latter from Milo.

Mrs. Bueford Culp of Arrowwood spent a few days recently at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bartsch.

Mrs. David Deitz, Maxine Deitz, Mrs. Bartsch and Mrs. J. Thomson, Jr., went to Lethbridge for the ladies' bonspiel and came home with a good time in their memory, which after all is a pretty good prize.

Mrs. George Kiemele spent a week recently in Red Deer visiting with members of her family.

Word was received this week of the death in Arizona of Carl Hermann. He was an early settler of this district before moving to Cluny several years ago. He later made his home in Bassano. Cremation services were held in Arizona, where he and Mrs. Hermann were spending the winter.

Friends will be sorry to know that Mrs. Archie Vooys of Calgary fell during the week and suffered a broken hip. She is in hospital in Calgary. Sincere wishes for a speedy recovery are sent to her. Gilbert is staying in the city for a few days with his father and Leonard with his sister, Mrs. Stanley Godkin went to Calgary on Sunday.

Lutheran W.M.F.

The March meeting of the Lutheran WMF was held at the home of Mrs. Hugh Winch with 14 members in attendance. Tentative plans were made for a Mothers' Day tea and bazaar.

Mrs. Jack Deitz was asked to purchase two sizes of plates and cups and saucers for the kitchen of the church. It is expected the kitchen will be finished some time during the coming summer. Members were notified of the coming district conference to be held in May at Enchant and it is hoped a number of members will be able to attend. It was also decided to send the delegates fee for the WMF conference to be held in July.

Group Bible study was conducted by Pastor Foster with several members taking part. Mrs. Foster closed the meeting with prayer after which lunch was served by the hostess. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Bartsch, Mrs. Greaves and Mrs. David Deitz.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Chester Thompson.

Agricultural Short Course

The first Agricultural Short Course in Lomond proved to be quite a success. It was arranged by the Alberta Department of Agriculture and the Lomond Lions Club and held in the Lomond Community Hall kitchen on Wednesday, Feb. 24. Approximately 60 men registered for the men's division and 30 women were in attendance at the ladies' session which was held in the Scout Hall.

Chairman for the morning, in the men's division was Jack West. It opened at 10:00 a.m. in the morning with a welcoming speech by Mayor Henry Huff and Lion Ray Elliott. Speakers during this session were Dr. V. Tonken, D.V.M. of Vulcan who spoke on, "Recent developments in treatment of livestock disease", and C. J. Anderson, general manager, Eastern Irrigation District, Brooks, who who spoke on, "Tame pasture and hay on irrigation and dry land." Sexsmith, agronomist (weeds) from Research Station, Lethbridge, "Weeds and their control." * * *

Chairman for the ladies' section was Mrs. Mary Lindsay. Speaker for the morning, Mrs. Norma Jean Gray, District Home Economist of Brooks District, "Your Home Freezer Chest (Your Treasure Chest)". She mentioned the importance of the use of recommended varieties of fruit and vegetables, of speed in handling and of the use of prime produce and of blanching vegetables as well as the practice of using suitable wrapping materials.

Paris, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce in Vulcan, and Lundy Findlay, Insurance Agent, Vulcan. All of which proved most interesting.

Miscellaneous Shower

A very lovely miscellaneous shower was held in the Lomond Community Hall on Wednesday evening, March 2, in honor of Miss June Joiner, recent bride-elect. Quite a number of ladies were present in spite of the cold weather and the curling.

A social hour was enjoyed playing bingo and a couple of amusing contests. Mrs. Margaret Ost, president of the Lomond Community Club presented June with a table full of gaily wrapped packages on behalf of all those present and also those who were unable to be there, to which June very fittingly responded. She was assisted in unwrapping the gifts by her mother and sister, Glenna, also Mrs. R. Elliott and several other members of the groom's family.

A very lovely lunch was then served by the social committee of the two sponsoring clubs— the Lomond Community Club and the Goodwill Service Club.

Use of daylight savings time was first advocated in England in 1907.
